

COURT UPHOLDS EIGHT HOUR ACT

San Antonio Contractor Had Appealed Case, But Loses.

Austin, Texas, Nov. 17.—In affirming the case of G. H. Bradford, from Bexar county, the court of criminal appeals today upheld the constitutionality of the eight-hour law of the 53d legislature.

Bradford, a contractor of San Antonio, was charged with having violated this law while at work on a county bridge across the San Antonio river. He was fined $50 in the trial court and appealed the case, claiming that the law was unconstitutional for several reasons, chiefly because it abridged the right of contract between employer and employee.

INQUIRY FOR G. M. GUTHER.

Chief of police Don Johnson received a telegram from Mrs. J. M. Guther of Douglas, Ariz., in which she asked that G. M. Guther be located. The message states that J. Jackson died on the night of Nov. 15 and Guther is to come to Douglas at once.

QUICKLY STOPS HEAD COLDS AND SNUFFLES

Cathartic Germs Cause of Most Colds. New Germicidal Air Treatment Best Remedy for These Common Ailments.

Upwards of 90 per cent of the so-called colds in the head and throat are in reality dangerous indications of the presence of acute catarrh. When you hear a person sneeze or cough it's almost certain they are throwing catarrh germs into the air for some other person to breathe and it's just as certain that the person breathing these germs will soon have catarrh or a catarrhal cold. The time to make these germs harmless and drive out your catarrhal cold is the very instant you feel a desire to sneeze or cough, or start to snuffle and wipe your nose every few minutes.

The quickest and surest way to stop a head cold and drive catarrh germs out of your system is to pour a few drops of the oil of Hyomei (pronounced high-o-mey) into one of the Hyomei inhalers which come with each large package and place the inhaler between your lips and breathe the germicidal but pleasant smelling air into your nose, throat and lungs. This air utterly destroys all catarrh germ life, quickly opens the closed air passages, makes breathing easy, clears your stuffy up head, drives out your throat and ends your snuffling and nose blowing. There certainly is no quicker or more satisfactory way of breaking up a cold, even after it is well started, and a few weeks' use will do away with all danger of chronic catarrh. Sold by druggists everywhere including Kelly & Pollard, who agree to return the full purchase price to any who use it and are not satisfied in breathing Hyomei for the first time be very sure to get the large size which contains the inhaler as this is very essential for best results.—Adv.

TREMENDOUS CHORUS GREETED LIBERTY BELL

PHOTOGRAPH OF THE VAST CHORUS WHICH WELCOMED THE LIBERTY BELL TO EL PASO TUESDAY. JAMES GRAHAM McNARY DIRECTED THE CHORUS.

Patriotic Airs From 500 Throats Swell Into Mighty Burst of Harmony.

THE blending of 500 voices in national anthems and accompanied by three military bands playing a muted accompaniment, was one of the big features of the Liberty Bell celebration. The chorus was grouped upon a great stand on the parking lot before the southwestern building, and the baton of conductor was in the hands of James Graham McNary. The three bands which furnished the accompaniment for the choral numbers, as well as the instrumental selections during the choral intervals, were: The 16th infantry band, directed by Ernest G. Fisher; the Sixth infantry band, by Max Muller; and the Sixth cavalry band, by Rocco Resta.

Sung "America."

As the bell came into view the bands played Sousa's stirring military march, "The Liberty Bell." The massed chorus then sang "America." Other selections played by the band were "The National Emblem March," the grand American fantasia, "American Patrol," and "The Old Veteran March." The songs sung by the chorus were: "America," "Red, White and Blue," "Hail Columbia," "Battle Hymn of the Republic," and "The Star Spangled Banner."

Gen. John J. Pershing and mayor Tom Lea personally expressed the highest gratification upon the success of the musical part of the Liberty Bell program. It was at their suggestion that Mr. McNary took upon the work of organizing the great chorus—and the task assumed by the music committee and all participants was large, the result more than justified the effort expended.

Army Great Aid.

The army men, both the musicians in the three combined bands and the singers in the chorus, were the most enthusiastic commendation. The chaplains assembled a huge and competent choir from the various regiments, representing all arms of the service; and the three chief musicians cooperated excellently to make the event a perfect success.

To the chorus, who by their splendid response to the call of the committee and to the patriotic appeal of the occasion, were the quickly assembled voices, spread as they were over a surface of 150 feet and after but one rehearsal demonstrated two things: one that the national air was so saturated into the nature of Americans that they may be sung with clearness and distinctness by all people upon a moment's notice; and the other that the character of the music and the occasion, called for a fine opportunity which makes a technical appraisal out of the question.

It is the goal of great chorals to sing in such unison that the effect is that of a perfect instrument. On the other hand the same effect may be secured by a great number of voices under the right influence—and this influence was present in the patriotic motif offered by the presence of the Liberty Bell. The chorus was a fine and inspiring incident in El Paso's musical history. Unhindered and open to the winds that swept down from the foothills, the creation of tonality and harmony was far more difficult than it is when the voices are confined in a confined space. It sang songs that are familiar. It sang them with a splendid spontaneity.

McNary Thanks Musicians.

Mr. McNary, the leader, expressed himself as highly gratified at the results.

"I think," he said, "that the best work upon the part of the chorus was in the singing of the 'Star Spangled Banner' as the Liberty Bell was departing; though there was a sweep and rhythm about the 'Battle Hymn of the Republic' which makes that number a pleasant thing to remember. Recalled as we were by three bands who played in splendid tempo; and buoyed up with air that were familiar to almost every man and woman in the city, it is not surprising that the singing should have been successful. It is not a surprise, but a confirmation."

Given Assistance.

The direct work of the chorus is responsible to the energy of Mr. McNary, Henry Bach, James A. Dick and Marvin Witte. Mr. McNary represented the singers upon the completion of the program. All who sang were supplied with folios, with the words and music printed thereon. The representatives from the infantry, artillery and cavalry in the chorus were seated to the left of the grand stand, while the High school students and of women were grouped in the center and at the right side. Mr. McNary was assisted also in arranging the program and chorus by chaplains John T. Axton of the 20th infantry, John A. Randolph of the Sixth and W. W. Brander of the Sixth cavalry.

"To H—With Flag," Said Negro When Asked To Take Off Hat To Flag

Because he would not salute the American flag, Robert Fisher, a young negro who works at the West Texas Country club, spent two hours in the city jail Tuesday afternoon while the throngs were viewing the Liberty Bell. Fisher was standing on San Antonio street near Stanton watching the military parade. Said Will T. Ross, who arrested Fisher, "I pulled the complaint of disturbing the peace. As the standard bearer of one regiment passed, he all bowed our heads, but I noticed that the negro did not."

"I told him to salute the flag," I replied, "To H— with the flag!" Then I grabbed him by the collar and brought him to jail."

"I thought he was joking," was Fisher's defense. He admitted that he did not take off his hat, but declared that he saw no one else bare their heads.

Recorder Paul Thomas said, "This court has no jurisdiction in the matter, but I hope hereafter you will always salute the flag."

unson, were able to make such a beautiful contribution to the success of the celebration, the entire committee of arrangements desires through The Herald to express its sincere thanks and appreciation.

Gen. Pershing's Appreciation.

The patriotic chorus was one of the best things I have heard," said Gen. Pershing. "I not only thought so myself, but the members of the Pennsylvania committee escorting the bell were all very much impressed with the whole ceremony and said that at no place had there been such a demonstration of patriotism."

Mayor Lea Thanks Chorus.

"The chorus was a remarkable thing," said mayor Tom Lea. "It was one of the most expressive and patriotic spectacles I have ever witnessed and I was proud of El Paso for cooperating to make such a demonstration possible. To James Graham McNary, who made the chorus possible, and to the musicians and singers of the massed bands, as well as the chorus singers and committee which arranged for it, Mr. Lea expressed his appreciation for the biggest feature of a big day for El Paso."

Sing Up All Night.

"At various points the singing remained up all night to see the bell pass. Large crowds gathered at Weldon, Gila, Maricopa, Casa Grande, Tucson and Benson. At Tucson the people of the Sulphur Spring valley had gathered. Henry A. Morgan, the mayor, said the city council formed the reception committee. A hand had been provided. The interest in the bell at Wilcox was phenomenal. Parents held their babies, begging that their little ones might be permitted to touch the sacred relic. The sight was most impressive."

Babies Touch Bell.

"Mr. Sker, chairman of the Bell committee, made special efforts to have all babies offered, touch the bell, but the train pulled out with many disappointed mothers holding aloft their babies."

"At Bowie there was a great demonstration and an interesting program was successfully carried out. The singing of patriotic songs by the school children was musically good and elicited the applause of the entire committee."

The Governor Joins.

"Large crowds had gathered at San Simon and Steinsford. The patriotic outpouring and the city was crowded as never before. The enthusiasm reached the highest point there when governor McDonald with members of his staff and U. S. senator Carson boarded the train."

"At Bowie there was a great demonstration and an interesting program was successfully carried out. The singing of patriotic songs by the school children was musically good and elicited the applause of the entire committee."

HELPED TO HAVE THE BELL COME BEST OF JOURNEY

W. E. Barnes Tells of Patriotic Reception Through Two States.

W. E. Barnes, traveling freight and passenger agent of the Southern Pacific company, who was one of the committee appointed to receive the Liberty Bell at the Arizona-California boundary line, and who accompanied the bell over the Tucson division from Yuma to El Paso, is credited, together with editor C. T. Valadigham, of the Deming freight, with having lighted the movement to bring the bell over the Southern Pacific via El Paso. Mr. Barnes is spending the day in El Paso. He and governor William C. McDonald, of New Mexico, were especially invited guests of the joint special committee of the subject Council accompanying the Liberty Bell at luncheon in their private car at Deming yesterday.

Mr. Barnes, when interviewed by a Herald representative, said: "The enthusiastic reception accorded the Bell by the people of Arizona and New Mexico was something wonderful. It was a whirlwind of patriotic sentiment sweeping over the country. Fully 75,000 people viewed the ancient relic between Yuma and El Paso in its transit over the Southern Pacific, beginning at arrival, the crowd was enormous."

Indians See Bell at Yuma.

"The Indians from the reservation gave a patriotic salute to the scene at Yuma and the city turned out en masse. Led by Chas. Moore, mayor, with the city council and representative citizens, E. S. Kirkpatrick, president, and L. W. Alexander, secretary of the Yuma County Commercial club, had arranged an elaborate program with a band and school children, but the tremendous crowd made it impossible to carry it out."

Stay Up All Night.

"At various points the singing remained up all night to see the bell pass. Large crowds gathered at Weldon, Gila, Maricopa, Casa Grande, Tucson and Benson. At Tucson the people of the Sulphur Spring valley had gathered. Henry A. Morgan, the mayor, said the city council formed the reception committee. A hand had been provided. Chairman Philadelphia Es-cort Says Reception Was Most Impressive.

Charles Seaver, chairman of the councilman escort to the Liberty Bell, and a member of the Philadelphia city council, stood on the rear of the Liberty Bell special Tuesday evening as the train slowly moved through the city and spoke feelingly of El Paso and the reception accorded the historic bell which was just behind him.

"We have been in most of the states of the union and we have had some interesting and remarkable experiences. We have had some splendid demonstrations, but at no point during the entire trip has there been such a wonderful and spontaneous outburst of enthusiasm as you have treated us to here in El Paso."

Entrance Impressive.

"We all feel that the entrance of the bell to your city, and by this I mean when it was taken from the union station to the Stanton street station, was by far the most impressive sight we have ever seen. The dense crowds all along the line of the tracks, the soldiers each saluting as the bell passed and the massed men at the end of the trip, with that wonderful chorus of voices, all made our stop here memorable."

Soldier a Good Peace Officer.

"You are indeed fortunate to have United States troops here to handle the celebration for you, for it has been our experience that these immigrant soldiers usually get beyond the police, but we have been shown that, after all, the United States soldier is a pretty good peace officer."

Contrast to Mexico.

"Here we traveled only a few steps from Mexico with this great relic of ours, and yet what a difference between the countries on each side of the line. I was especially interested in watching the Mexicans as they passed the bell, and I hope it will teach them its true lesson."

"Let me assure you for all our committee that we appreciate this grand display and that El Paso has outshined every other city we have visited. The committee men finally commented, saying that it would not do to spoil such a splendid demonstration of patriotism by disappointing anyone who wished to see the bell."

"I wish to thank the army and city through Gen. John J. Pershing and mayor Tom Lea for the splendid cooperation they gave me in handling the bell in El Paso," superintendent Hoover added. "Had it not been for the city and army we never would have been able to make the day the success it was and we are deeply appreciative of that assistance."

Big Hearted Officer Aids Crippled Boy To See Bell

A little crippled boy wanted to see the Liberty Bell, just as every little boy and girl in El Paso wanted to see the bell that announced liberty in 1776.

He took his place in line and, hopping bravely along on his crutches, made his way with the crowd that was surging down the soldier-lined path past the bell.

The boy was very small and the crowd took all around him were very tall and he did not have much chance of seeing the bell until Lieut. Otto Michaels, who was standing on the flat car adjoining the bell, happened to see him in the crowd.

The lieutenant jumped off the car, picked the little boy up on his shoulders, crutches and all, and lifted him to the car where he could not only see the entire division, between El Paso and Sanderson.

BELL AT SANDERSON.

Sanderson, Tex., Nov. 17.—The Liberty Bell passed through here at 4:30 a. m. and, in spite of the early hour, a crowd was at the station to see it go through. The train was making its scheduled time and was run without any trouble over the entire division between El Paso and Sanderson.

DO THIS FIRST—YOU!

You know, and every physician knows, that when any sickness has passed, whether it be throat trouble, organic disturbances, contagious diseases, or even a severe cold, a relapse is feared, because sickness robs the system of Nature's resistance and leaves it subject to lingering germs.

Drugs never build up a worn-out body—only food can do that, and the first thing to take after any sickness is the concentrated, blood-making oil-food in Scott's Emulsion, which feeds the tissues, benefits the blood and strengthens both lungs and throat.

Physicians prescribe Scott's Emulsion after sickness. Nurses everywhere advocate it. Scott's is pure medicinal food, without alcohol or drugs.

BELL ILLUMINATED AS APPRECIATION

As an appreciation of the reception given the Liberty Bell and the committee accompanying it in El Paso, superintendent R. M. Hoover of the G. I. & A. succeeded in having the bell illuminated before it left El Paso and the electric lights kept on until after Fabian had been passed.

"The bell committee told me that it would be impossible to light the bell when it left here as there was a positive order against having the electric lights burning while the train was running," said superintendent Hoover. "But I told the committee that there were crowds at Stevens street, along our right of way and at Clint and Fabian who had been waiting hours to see the bell. The committee men finally commented, saying that it would not do to spoil such a splendid demonstration of patriotism by disappointing anyone who wished to see the bell."

"I wish to thank the army and city through Gen. John J. Pershing and mayor Tom Lea for the splendid cooperation they gave me in handling the bell in El Paso," superintendent Hoover added. "Had it not been for the city and army we never would have been able to make the day the success it was and we are deeply appreciative of that assistance."

Acute Articular Rheumatism

The exact cause of rheumatism is unknown, though it is generally believed to be due to an excess of uric acid in the blood. It may be said with some truth that rheumatism has been found which is a specific cause. In fact the literature of rheumatism shows that there are but few drugs which have not been given a trial. In the case of one observer we find that a certain remedy has been used with the utmost satisfaction; others have found the same remedy to be a great disappointment. All physicians however agree that every method of treatment is aided by the administration of some remedy to relieve the pain and unless the nervous system and Dr. W. S. Schaefer expresses the opinion of thousands of practitioners when he says that Anti-Kam Tablets should be given preference over all other remedies for the relief of the pain in all forms of rheumatism. These tablets can be purchased in any quantity. They are also unparalelled in headaches, neuralgias and all pain. Ask for A-S Tablets.
